

Polish | Master carpenter | Timber construction engineer as employee of timber construction AVOR and construction site manager (m|f|d)

Grafschaft Gelsdorf, Germany

As a leading company in the wood industry as well as in wood and silo construction, Blumer Lehmann uses the diverse potential of wood innovatively and in a sustainable value creation cycle. Our employees are committed to a wide variety of customer projects at the headquarters in Gossau SG, at locations in Switzerland, Germany and Luxembourg and around the world.

Tasks

- You are part of a young, motivated team that builds modular, residential, industrial and special buildings with fun and team spirit.
- Together with your team, you will implement our unusual carpentry work in planning and on construction sites in Germany and Luxembourg; As a construction site manager, you organize and coordinate everything from the assembly of the shell to the expansion and completion.
- You organize the processes and work on our construction sites together with the project management and the assembly team management
- During work preparation, you create the work and assembly plans from the Cadwork 3D model and create logistics, assembly and safety concepts.
- You proactively organize material procurement, ordering and create capacity and resource planning for your construction sites.

Requirements

You have completed training as a carpenter and have completed further training to become a foreman, master craftsman or timber construction engineer. You are an organizational talent, independent and have a passion for timber construction. You will use your valuable professional and leadership experience in a targeted manner. We look forward to your communicative, reliable and team-oriented personality.

We offer

We offer you a varied and interesting job in a successful and future-oriented company. In a safe working environment you can contribute and develop yourself further. We maintain an appreciative relationship and the necessary sense of humor at work must not be missing. A supportive and collegial team awaits you. We look forward to hearing from you. Get in touch easily with a “short application”. Of course, you can also submit your application documents using our online application form.

We look forward to receiving your application documents via our homepage.